Empowering and Motivating You to Succeed!

Morris Morrison's Profile

Travels from: Lake Norman, NC, US

Morris Morrison was born in New York City. Shortly after his birth, Morris was left orphaned by the death of his mother and father due to drugs, alcohol, and a life lived in the streets of New York. Morris grew up in a community where drug and alcohol abuse was prevalent and where many people were faced with difficult circumstances to overcome.

Despite the challenges that Morris faced at an early age, he continued to stay focused, driven, and passionate about being successful in life-placing education high on his list of priorities. Morris received his Bachelors Degree in Psychology from Fairmont State University and his Masters Degree in Business (HR/Labor Relations) from West Virginia University. Upon completion of graduate school, Morris was selected to further his educational and business experience as a Management Associate in BB&T University's Management Development Program, the top Management Development Program in the Financial Services Industry.

Morris' drive, ambition and genuine love for MOTIVATING others continues to keep him focused on growing each day, pursuing his dreams, and growing others through his experiences. Today, Morris engages his audiences as he shares the PERSONAL LEADERSHIP strategies that enabled him to persevere life's early challenges. Morris is a true life success story that's only just begun. In addition to becoming a highly sought-after Motivational Speaker and Leadership Development Professional, Morris is also busy publishing his first book.

Audience members agree that Morris Morrison's Motivational Leadership Programs illustrate two very important points: everyone has a unique life story, equipped with its own challenges and adversity, but.... it's the application of your individual gifts and PERSONAL LEADERSHIP that will help you to UNLEASH your true potential.

So get ready for MORRIS MORRISON..... he will challenge you to RESPOND to your leadership ability with the courage to pursue your dreams, he will inspire you with a plan to get you there, and he will motivate you to believe in yourself and to be more successful than you have ever dreamed of becoming!

Drive and Determination

Everyone is driven....to a degree! However, life's circumstances may often times prevent many of us from seeing our dreams become reality. The fact is many obstacles may keep us from pursuing successful paths such as educational goals, starting a new career, improving our relationships, or even exercising more often. And Morris knows that as we face those challenges, we channel our drive and determination towards overcoming "the challenge of the day"--we simply prioritize.

In this session, Morris will challenge you to forget about what you don't have as you tap into and unleash the drive that you need to take your life, your relationships, or your organization to the next level. Morris will also show you how to welcome adversity and challenges with open arms. Morris will inspire you and help you to create a BLUEPRINT FOR SUCCESS as you learn to embrace a new vision that will put you on the road to success!

Testimonial: Morris Morrison is the Real Deal! When I needed someone to give a motivational speech to my staff at the end of the year, Morris came in and gave us what we needed to hear. Morris' message set the stage for everyone to approach the coming year with enthusiasm, excitement, and with the necessary goals to meet their needs personally and professionally. If you're looking for someone to deliver a well rounded motivational, inspirational, spiritual, and a direct in-your-face address to a group, no matter how big or small, get Morris Morrison!
