Richale Reed's Profile

Travels from Fayetteville, NC (FAY), USA

Speaker, Author, Counselor, Poet

Richale Reed is an author and motivational speaker who happens to also be both a licensed professional counselor and addictions counselor. Richale currently serves as the therapist for Monarch's detox and crisis facility in Lumberton, NC where she loves what she, "get to do," everyday assist in transforming lives. She also serves as a Military and Family Life Counselor at Ft. Bragg Army base.

It was partially due to her own past traumas that she became a therapist with a genuine love for people and crisis work. Her specialty is moving people from a place of stagnation to change! Her ability to relate amplifies her ability to, "hold a room," as one of her corporate clients testified, regardless of the reason that she was given the mic. She has trained mental health and substance abuse professionals for agencies such as Addictions Professionals of North Carolina.

She also has a passion and long history for working with faith based and grass-roots organizations as a motivational speaker in areas of personal and spiritual development especially for women and girls. She desires for faith based institutions to understand the benefits of having counselors work with their members.

In her best seller, "Silhouette of Her: Naked and Unashamed A Poetic Journey of Faith", Richale passionately shares her past traumas from a place of victory, not victimization, to assist those who are open to witnessing their very own transformation. This same passion translates into every speaking opportunity. A poet and author, she is available to perform at your next poetry event as well.

In her spare time she enjoys learning, spending time with family, traveling, culture, and attending outdoor concerts.
