Ethan Fisher's Profile

Travels from Denver, CO, USA

Ethan Fisher

Drug, Alcohol and Mental Health
Preventative and Inspirational Speaker

Ethan Fisher is a preventative and motivational speaker that works with students and student-athletes. He uses his life story as an educational and precautionary message to make the youth aware of the dangers of underage drinking, substance abuse and brings awareness to the issues of peer pressure, depression and other mental health topics.

Fisher has turned his life around after committing a DUI, Vehicular Homicide at the age of 23. Since the horrible accident in 2003, and after 3 years in prison, Ethan went back to college and not only graduated, but did so with numerous accomplishments and achievements. He was the recipient of two college degrees, 3 minors, graduated summa cum laude, was awarded the entrepreneurship student of the year and was the recipient of the President's award. He then furthered his education and received a master's degree with honors.

While finishing his undergraduate degrees, Ethan continued to beat the odds by playing college basketball at the age of 27 as an inmate of the Colorado Department of Corrections. With a bulky ankle monitor, curfews, random parole officer house check-ins, he still managed to be recognized as an All-Conference and Most Valuable Player (MVP). All while playing in less than 50% of the games, due to his Inmate Status and travel restrictions.

During this time, Ethan caught the attention of his soon to be mentor, Tommy Spaulding, a world-renowned motivational speaker and Best Selling author. Tommy Spaulding released his second New York Times best-selling book, The Heart-Led Leader, which "hit #1 Wall Street Journal, #1 Amazon business and top ten New York Times national bestseller lists. It was the #1 best-selling business book in America." Mr. Spaulding included an entire chapter on Ethan and his desire to help students and student-athletes across the country.

Fisher has dedicated his life to preventing others from making similar mistakes and inspiring individuals to overcome any obstacles that they may face. Ethan founded Life CONsequences as a platform to not only inform but ultimately prevent young impressionable middle school and high school students from making life altering decisions.

He also started UnDrafted, a small LLC, which allows him to speak with college athletic programs around the United States. Fisher's passion has always been basketball. In order to pursue this career as a speaker, he had to respectfully decline a few small college and high school coaching opportunities, further committing his life to speaking to youth across the country. This is his chosen career path and this is what motivates him on a daily basis. So far, Fisher has spoken at over a hundred schools and universities, reaching over 20,000 students and student-athletes.

"If you could think back on all the silly foolish things you've done and 'gotten away' with, you'd know how close you've come to having a story like Ethan's. It's a reminder that we are all just one step away from a terrible moment that changes our lives forever.. It's a morality tale of crime and punishment with a strong dose of redemption as well."
